Whole Board to Remain

APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE PASSED

Mr. Nelson F. Hauff, new village trustee, was appointed Monday night as chairman of the Police committee, a position temporarily held by the president of the board, Mr. Julius Flentie. The entire board, however, were included as members of the committee.

Previous to confirmation of these appointments by roll call, Mr. Hauff demurred, saying that his employment takes him out of town during the day, and he felt that a man who could keep in closer touch with the police department should be appointed. He also asked why not continue the arrangement in which Mr. Flentie was chairman (the committee also containing the entire board). Mr. Flentie reminded Mr. Hauff that every other member of the board had accepted a chairmanship of some committee, and stated that he felt that Mr. Hauff could do no less; this Mr. Hauff admitted; Mr. Flentie continued that he (Mr. Flentie) felt that in his various capacities as president of the board, he was doing his full share. Board members mentioned the fact that three of their number work in Chicago, but they still function.

It was pointed out also, that police officers are now obliged to punch the clock at the station; and that their movements can be generally supervised without always being close by.

On roll call the appointment was confirmed, and Mr. Hauff accepted the vote of the board.

All members were present except Mr. O. G. Barrett. Minutes were read by H. C. Peter, village clerk, and approved as read.

Mr. Frankberg, chairman of the committee on Sanitation, presented a petition from property owners on S. Walnut street, north of 50th street, complaining of flooded basements and sewer gas; that they were having to pay toward the big sewer and driving the benefit; that they asked the village to make some proper outlet. The residents present agreed with the committee to give them time (two weeks) to make a personal investigation and make a recommendation to the board.

The street committee report, which was accepted, was that painting of parking spaces was finished; certain streets were cleaned, others graded.

To Save on Lights?

Mr. Schaefer, chairman of the streets, sidewalk and municipal lighting committee, said he would like to have others of the board go around town with him and help decide what of the street lights can be turned out to save money for the village. Mr. Flentie suggested that the ornamental lights in the business district may be turned off at 1 a. m. by being put on a separate circuit; the overhead lights to remain; that would save $15 or so per month.

Mr. Hauff then rose to his feet and stated that in his opinion, altogether too high a proportion of the income of the village is going for power and light.

"In my opinion, there are altogether too many lights in Scarsdale and Stonegate," he said. "While they are very nice, we have cut down salaries for the boys working for the village. Let's cut down expense systematically. Power and lights at $20,000 a year are way out of proportion; they ought to be cut, and I am going to fight until they are cut." Citing about $60,000 as the annual outlay of the village, this one item of power and light makes up about one-third of the village's outgo, he explained. $372.00 a month for lights in Stonegate and Scarsdale, and $692 for lights for all the rest of the village is unfair, he maintained. He also objected to 13 ornamental lights along State road at Scarsdale; saying that they are needless, as the overhead lights are efficient.

Mr. Flentie mentioned that many lights have already been cut out, and admitted that there is opportunity for further savings.

A request was received from the telephone company, that in view of the fact that the State highway department had ordered them to move their poles supporting the Mt. Prospect cable, off the State's right-of-way of the Northwest highway from N. State road to Foundry road, that they, the telephone company, would like permission to put poles inside the curb by the sidewalk. Such arrangement would be considered temporary, in view of future widening of the pavement. To build a new cable line on another street would cost about $40,000 and take three months to build, it was said. After consulting with Village Attorney Thal, and much discussion, it was voted that permission should be granted the company to place poles half in the curbing and half in the sidewalk. Growth of Banking

THE ORIGIN OF CHECKS

(Article Number 3)

Jones and Brown, who have been discussing in this series of articles on the origin of our present day system of exchange, found the simple system of keeping books and settling accounts at the end of the month a very satisfactory arrangement in their dealings with one another. One day, however, Jones found that he had made a miscalculation and had not brought with him sufficient cash to pay up in full the amount which was due Brown from the month's transactions. As he had no future deposit with Banker Smith a large sum of money, it occurred to him that he might just as well write an order on Banker Smith telling him to give Brown the sum of money in question. As Brown also kept his account with Banker Smith, nothing would be needed except for the banker to transfer the money on his books from the account of Jones and credit it to Brown's account. Brown being perfectly satisfied with the arrangement, Jones wrote out and signed an order on his banker to make the transfer, and Brown then accepted it as though it were actual cash. Here was a shorter and safer way even than the one they had been using, Jones' order on his banker is what we now call a check, by which 90% of all business transacted through banks is now handled.

The advantage of the new method was very clear. Jones and Brown could settle their accounts with each other now without using any cash whatever. The cash belonging to both remained safely in the bank, but served its purpose as a medium of exchange just as well as formerly, through the clever expedient of the written check. These checks were also good as receipts and as evidence of cash payment could be produced and compared with the book records to see where the error lay. There was no longer any danger of double payment for any item.

William Friese, Old Resident of Arlington Heights, Passed Away

Mr. William Friese of Arlington Heights passed away Thursday afternoon, June 2, at Palatine hospital. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 12:30 o'clock at the Karstens funeral home in Arlington Heights, thence to the St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church in Arlington Heights; Rev. C. M. Noack and Rev. H. C. Fricke officiating. Interment was at St. Peter cemetery.

Children Jeopardize Own Lives When Playing Baseball in the Street

Mayor Flentie has issued a warning to parents that they should warn their children against playing ball or other games in the St. With increased number of autos which are traveling at increased speeds, the danger is greater than ever. The police cannot keep every autoist within the speed law, any more than it can patrol all residence streets warning children off the pavement. The responsibility belongs to the parents. If they act, there will be no sad accidents.

Methodists Plan Memorial Service For Past Ministers

A memorial service will be held at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon at the Arlington Heights cemetery on Euclid avenue for deceased Methodist ministers and their wives.

There are three graves of Methodist ministers in Arlington Heights cemetery: of Rev. Mr. Hilton, Rev. Mr. Goodfellow, both formerly connected with The First Methodist Episcopal church in Arlington Heights; and Dr. Hawks, formerly a member of the Detroit conference. The grave of Mrs. Hilton is also in the local cemetery.

Dr. B. T. Best of Arlington Heights will give a short history of each person whose grave will be decorated with flowers on this occasion. Automobiles will meet at the church at 2:45 o'clock to afford transportation to those who wish to attend the service. The public is invited to participate.

'SPECIALS' ACCOUNTS AUDITED

Contractor Wants to Withdraw from Scarsdale Jobs

It appears that Grove street in Scarsdale, and approaches thereto, are going to remain unpaved indefinitely; according to a conference between the Board of Local Improvements of Arlington Heights, and Mr. Oscar Milburn, president of Milburn Brothers, contractors, in Mount Prospect, after the regular Village Board meeting Monday night.

Mr. Milburn referred to the fact that while paying Scarsdale was originally one job, the putting thru of a huge sewer main through the line of Grove street made it desirable in 1929 to make two contracts: No. 107, of some $420,000; and a separate contract, No. 106, of about $20,000 for Grove street, since it would take time for the earth to settle over the sewer.

Mr. Milburn asked that the small contract be cancelled, in view of the fact that very few property owners in the subdivision have paid any installments on their special assessments; and present conditions did not seem to warrant the paving or make it profitable for anyone. He also stated that the same reasons would apply to certain intersections unfinished on the larger contract, and he would be glad to relinquish the Stonegate bonds he put up as surety for the completion of the work now seemingly uncalled for. He pointed out that the special assessments could be reduced to that extent. That mentioned, he said it would be necessary to see that no lots affected be left out of the benefit of such action. As far as the Stonegate bonds are concerned, Mr. Milburn admitted that he did not consider them of much value. The Board agreed to take the suggestions under advisement.

Attorney Thal announced that the special assessment accounts are now audited and actually up-to-date; and that a final report would soon be forthcoming from Mr. Laurin, auditor. Mr. Thal continued that he would consider it worth while to notify property owners more promptly and frequently concerning payments due, and when they would become delinquent.

Incidentally a bill for $176 from Milburn Brothers for drainage of property along side of a pavement on N. Dunton street was mentioned. Although the work was ordered done, the impression exists that a flooding of a yard would not have occurred if proper drainage had been provided for in the original construction. The bill was therefore held up.

Legal certificates of completion of two paving jobs on the south side, Nos. 92 and 93, were asked by bondholders, and it was voted that such be granted.

A bill of $241 was received from the chief clerk in the County treasurer's office for a list of delinquent special assessment payments.

Suggestions as to what to do about various special assessment accounts remaining uncompleted, and "in the red" were asked by Mr. Flentie. As interest accumulated on the bonds, there never will be enough money in the funds to take them up, it appeared.

Mr. Thal suggested a "revolving fund" to cover such small deficiencies and take up small balances not worth rebating, had been set up in some villages. In some cases, also, "double benefits" could be declared. The best solution he could suggest would be for the Village board to make an appropriation for Public Benefits, in the appropriation ordinance, he said. The Board then agreed to consider such an addition to the ordinance, as yet unsigned, at the next Village board meeting.

Harvey Winkelman Is Arlington Heights New Milk Dealer

Harvey Winkelman, who has been associated with Kehe Motor Service some time, is now a regular milk man, having purchased the Arlington Heights route of the Capitol Dairy. Mr. Winkelman has ordered two Chevrolet delivery trucks from Zander Motor Sales and will personally handle deliveries on the south side, while Albert Kehe will be his representative on the north side of the village.

Mr. Winkelman will secure his supply of milk from the Peterson Dairy of Barrington, with which product Arlington Heights people are well familiar.

ARLINGTON BOOSTERS, CHICAGO CARDINALS, NEXT SUNDAY'S GAME

Arlington Boosters will play one of the strongest ball clubs this year at the East side ball park. The opponents, Chicago West Cardinals, are a fast ball club and you will be sure to see a lot of good baseball. The batteries for the Cardinals, Stomitz, a spit ball pitcher, will pitch and Parfett will catch. Wm. Breene, the Arlington club manager, will use Dieball as pitcher and Stuhl as catcher.

Wets and Drys, Many Women, to Gather in Chicago

Women of Cook, Lake, Kane and Will counties in Illinois, have a definite part in the "Loyalty Convention," in Chicago beginning at 7:15 tonight (Friday), to be staged by leaders of dry forces of the country. The convention is to be held in the Third Presbyterian church, Ashland and Ogden avenues, Chicago, near the Stadium where the political nominating and platform making conventions will be held. Nationally known speakers will appear.

Parades by water, air and land, culminating with a mass meeting in the Coliseum, will be made by the wets. The Crusaders, and the Republican Citizens' committee against National Prohibition promise an air parade led by Maj. R. W. Schroeder, altitude flyer, and that Maj. R. W. Schroeder will lead a flotilla of yachts. The names of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, and other noted wets are on the Coliseum program.

Two events on the "Loyalty Convention" program are especially for women. An entire session of the convention will be devoted to women, under the auspices of the Illinois W. C. T. U., beginning Saturday, June 13, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the World's and National W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, Boston, Mass., chairman of the Women's National Committee of Law Enforcement, will be the principal speakers. The session will be presided over by Mrs. Ada Reed Ferguson, of Chicago, president Illinois W. C. T. U.

The other woman's event is the "Loyalty Luncheon" by the Women's National Committee of Law Enforcement, to be held at the new Naval Base Armory in Grant Park, Chicago, at the lake at the foot of Monroe street. Preparations are being made for five thousand, and men are to be invited. National speakers will make addresses on the demands of women in presidential politics. The Chicago arrangements are in the hands of a committee headed by Mrs. William H. Cade.

Robert Utpadel Picked for Asst. Thistle Official

For assistant thistle commissioner of Wheeling township, Robert Utpadel of Wheeling was chosen by the township board of auditors Tuesday night at a meeting at the office of Judge Gilbert Klehm in Arlington Heights.

Applicants were subjected to a careful verbal examination Saturday evening at the Arlington Heights Village hall. Names of eleven qualified persons were considered Tuesday night from the standpoint of personal qualifications and personal need, but with the thought uppermost of reduction of the growing weed menace. However discussion became so heated and division of opinion so irreconcilable, that it was finally agreed to put the names separately in a hat, and let the thistle commissioner, Charles Pavel, 221 W. Wing street, Arlington Heights, pull out a slip. The name of Mr. Robert Utpadel appearing on the slip, he was therefore elected.

Mr. Pavel was assistant thistle commissioner last year, and upon the passing on of his superior office, succeeds to the office.

Announcement to property owners appears elsewhere in this issue. The State is putting increased pressure behind the campaign against noxious weeds, and is going to be more severe on violators, "cabined" are doing a tough job and doing it well.

Assessor to Keep Evening Hours for Personalty Schedules

Wheeling Township Assessor Gustav Heidorn will keep evening office hours every night except Sunday, from 6 to 10 o'clock at his place of business, the Heidorn Sweet and Eat Shop, 11 E. Campbell street, Arlington Heights, for the purpose of receiving and assisting the public with the 1931 personal property tax schedules.

PALATINE FINANCIAL SHOWING

Annual Report of Treas.
Shows Slash of
$8,000.00

The Palatine Village Board has risen to the problems brought on by the general depression in a manner which should be pleasing to every taxpayer in the town.

The annual report of the Village treasurer, which was meeting Monday night and which is printed elsewhere in this issue shows that if the village had all of the tax money which is now due it, all obligations could be paid off and Palatine would be square with the world.

The last annual report showed Palatine with a net debt of $12,000, even after all tax money due would have been expended, while the report this year shows a balance of assets as compared to liabilities.

This fine showing has been brought about only by the strict economy with which the village has been operated during the past year, the cutting down of salaries, shutting off of lights and the holding of all expenses down to the very minimum. While the treasurer's report shows the money paid out of the various funds some of which was on old bills, and leaving many bills still unpaid, Village Clerk Hart reported to the Board that during the last fiscal year they had operated the Village at a saving of $8,000 as compared to the previous year. Mr. Hart's figures were based on the bills approved by the various committees, month by month. He told the board that every committee had stayed well within its appropriation and that if the same economy was practiced for the coming year the budget which the board is now working on would be a balanced budget and that operating costs would be well within the bounds of probable income.

So, if the tax situation in Cook county can ever be cleared up, Palatine will be in fine condition and can be operated once more on a pay as you go basis.

The Village Board members have tried hard to meet the conditions brought on by the troublesome times and how well they have succeeded can be seen by the economical manner in which they are operating. When Mayor Oltendorf was congratulated on the showing of the Board, he said, "This result has been accomplished only through the hearty cooperation of the whole official family. We have simply taken the bull by the horns and done it. We would all like to do many things for our citizens which simply can't be done under present conditions. If Cook county can get out of this tax muddle and we can return to regular tax collections with continued economy (for we are going to keep right on being tight) we will get back to a cash basis."

This newspaper believes that it expresses the sentiment of all of Palatine when we say that we believe that Mayor Oltendorf and his "cabinet" are doing a tough job and doing it well.

ARLINGTON BUDGET IS COMPLETED

Based on Actual Expenses
Will be Followed by
All Departments

Mayor Flentie and the members of the Arlington Heights village board have had no easy task the past ten days in completing the financial budget for the coming year. With the installation of a modern bookkeeping system the old time "guesses" could be no more. The finance committee of which Walter Krause is chairman, called in the entire board to consider the various items. The auditor was able to present to them the actual expenses of the past year and the probable costs for the coming year. There were many departments upon which savings could be made, due to economy measures now in effect. There were a good many items for which no appropriations have previously been made. In the past to pay them the money has been taken out of the treasury in a hit or miss manner, which has given the general fund a load too heavy for that fund to bear and which prevented any business-like method of accounting.

It is all changed now and the business of the village the coming year will be conducted on a business-like manner and not on guess work with faith in the future that everything will come out all right in some way. As receipts will be credited to various funds, the expenditures must also necessarily be charged to the right funds and kept within a definite amount.

There are therefore many new items in the appropriation. There is a figure of $7,000 for salary and maintenance of the new sewage plant, an item never before included in the budget. The village has invested a great amount of money in that plant and it must be properly maintained. That plant is a model for its kind, it is easily accessible to the general public and tax payers are urged to visit it and have Mr. Harris or some member of the board show them what is actually being done there.

Another new item is one designed to correct an error or mistake made by the village when it issued $2,700 more bonds for the ornamental street lights of the business section. The assessment lacked that amount of equaling the bond issue and the improvement and the entire town benefits by a bright business district, there is nothing else to do but to ultimately pay the bill, provision for part of which is being made in this year's budget.

Dead water mains have been the source of considerable complaint in the past and jeopardize health of citizens. Users of water in entirety must be improved in the same quality of water and the budget provides a thousand dollars to be used in correcting the dead ends.

Aside from the public benefit for the big sewer, there have been no public benefits assessed in the improvement jobs, the past four years, but the old public benefits, authorized years ago, reach a large amount and must be assessed in a manner. Provision is made in the new budget for this purpose to the extent of $4,400.

The water department is more than self supporting, but the budget necessarily carries $10,000 as the expenses of that department the coming year. This department actually will not cost the taxpayers a cent.

The total of the actual taxes for village purposes that are assessed against local tax payers is in the neighborhood of $40,000. It may not be generally known that practically half of that amount is needed to pay electric light and power bills to the Public Service Co., and that amount is going to be reduced considerably the coming year, by the elimination of a great many unnecessary street lights.

Due to the many economies that have been put in force by the present administration, the total of the new budget is only slightly more than previous years. In actuality it is a reduction of expenses as previously many thousands were expended that were not provided for by the budget. In plain English there can be no more "undercover" financing on the part of the village. It will be all out in the open and Exhibit A of the new system is the 1932-33 budget which will be found in this issue of the Herald.

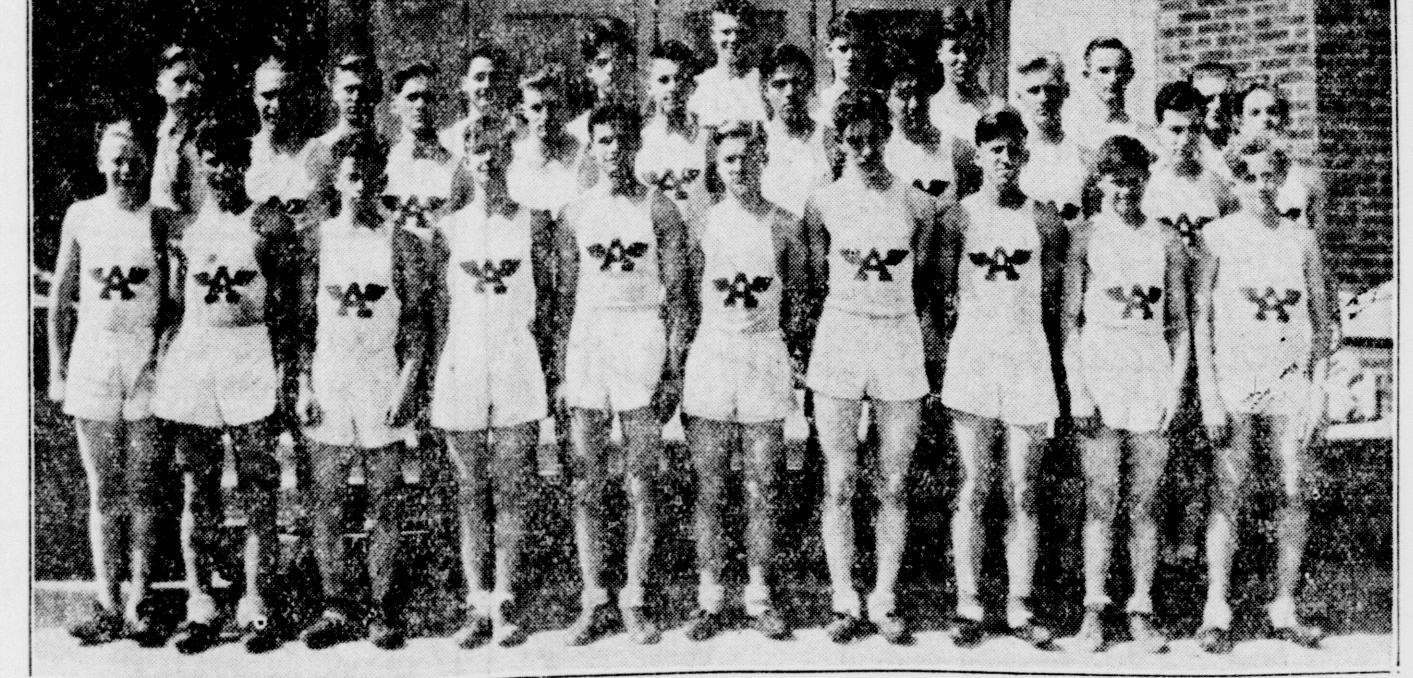

The village board should be commended for an honest-to-goodness budget. Every interested taxpayer should study it and file it away for future reference.

South School Exhibit Thursday This Week

The annual exhibition of the South school in Arlington Heights is being held Thursday evening this week at the school.

The school band will play outdoors at 7:30 o'clock. Then will come the announcement of the Health Achievement awards granted. After that, the school building will be opened, and the various rooms will have on exhibition constructive and art work done by the pupils and any special projects worked out by the classes. Miss Irene Russell is principal of the school. A large attendance of parents and friends of the school is expected.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL TRACK SQUAD

Herewith is presented Arlington's 1932 track team. This represents only about half the entire squad. The remainder constitutes the rest of the Freshman-Sophomore team.

These boys kept up Arlington's three year record of being undefeated in a dual meet. Their seven dual meet victims this season were: Barrington, Bensenville, Palatine, Woodstock, Lake View of Chicago, and Franklin Park. Once again the annual triangular Arlington-Palatine-Barrington meet was won by Arlington after a 2-year layoff.

They placed second to Libertyville in the conference meet with 38 points and made an excellent showing at the state sectional at LaGrange.

Only three seniors are among this group, but they are three of Arlington's best. Capt. Brodnan was a consistent performer in the distance races. Hasz won practically every start in the half, being beaten once at LaGrange and again by a teammate in a dual meet.

Stefanik was undefeated in the 440 for his start at LaGrange and was a consistent point winner in the 100 yard dash.

Brodnan beat the previous conference mile record. Hasz and Stefanik missed the half and 440 records each broke the conference records at the LaGrange meet.

With a year's added experience these boys should be fit for fast company next season. The track of a track upon which a train has handicapped them severely in the past. It is extremely difficult to get in any kind of trim for meets by running over the rough spots in Arlington's field. And the worst of it is that all meets have to be held on foreign soil.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Palaces grow in big cities, Where the poor intonements hide; Homes grow in little towns like this Where "Good Neighbors" still abide.

There are great things in the city That make us wiser to learn, Yet our hearts are full of pity At the misery we discern. So gladly when the dark comes down And stars are in the sky, We take the train for the little town, With our wisdom, you and I.

Just let them make fun of the small town to their hearts' content, and poke jibes at "The Country Newspaper" while they who only know the glamour of the city as viewed from "The East Side" tenebrous neither know the city's most helpful features, nor its greatest menace.

More and more, the home in the country is becoming the preference of the more intelligent; a country home with space, with its easy ways of reaching and enjoying the really helpful things of the city is the wise family's choice.

O yes, the old time drama when old time classics were presented by the Booths, Charlotte Cushman and the later stars, going to city theaters was a delight. Now when movies have driven the classics from the stage and vaudeville succeeds with its creeping touch of things un-nice, it is fine in our small country town to witness a more or less little play presented by our home town people.

We have no inclination to criticize the art of their acting; we are just absorbed and amazed to see how well they carry their parts. In such a play the actor might be men intrigued by the action and vigor, "Madame Nonsense" put into the swing of her baton, no Chicago stage could show a leader of orchestra that could excel Marie Lauterburg and my, O how Mamie Baumgarten did thump that poor old galvanized iron tub. Every orchestral instrument of that kitchen cabinet, produced time and rhythm, and how interesting to see our own people in such interesting characters.

Go to a city theater to witness "noted" actors from whom we expect great things; like as not we come home tired and disappointed. At home with our own people we are not in a mood to criticize and we do heartily enjoy even their ambitious reach for great performance.

Funny it would seem to Grandma way back to hear our women today lamenting their losses on the stock market. Their losses in stocks and bonds. After all to us who are "in the midst thereof," it is not one bit funny. At a church luncheon the other day heard of more than one woman who is in a sad state of mind over just such losses. "The old order changeth."

Bobbie Burns said, "O, would some power the giftie gie us, to see ourselves as others see us." That would indeed be a cruel wish. To-day some would rather wish "O would some power the giftie gie us to cheat others as others cheat us." Never mind fellow sufferers, look at the big rougous who got our money would you change places with them?

Wonder why so many are anxious to prove they descended from monkeys or is it ascended? Anyhow, the apes were tree dwellers. I'd rather claim our ancestors were trees. They do seem so friendly and willing to own our kinship to shackle, shelter and screen us from sun and storms. In Deuteronomy 20-19, we read, "For the tree of the field is as man's life."

We somber ranks of fir and pine, Where on the suns of midnight shines Beneath your gloomy majesty, I weary for a maple tree, An oak and elm or linden tree Bring peace into the heart of me, A restful charm not thine.

Luxuriant groves of spice and balm Deep myrtle shades, and isles of palms, Bring not a breath of heaven's calm. If wandering there I fail to see, One dear familiar, homeland tree! O, groves of heaven, divinely fair, May each rejoicing wanderer there In rapture glorified to see, His own dear homeland vine and tree.

Some one said, "If only folks would quit talking about depression there would be no depression." That some people just seem to get a lot of joy out of telling how much they have lost. Another says the greatest unemployment is the unemployment of the conscience. There it is, all our trouble has come up on us from the paralyzed conscience. Isn't it so?

Talk about our shipping raw materials to other countries. See what can be done with raw material shipped to us. The Joseph Hofstetter received a piece of furniture from their old home in Switzerland, sent in a carefully made packing case of lumber. This the ever apt Ferdie made good use of and now on the Hofstetter lawn is a set of furniture made by his skillful hands of the wood from dear old Switzerland.

More trouble comes to humanity in this old world of ours by trying to be something or somebody we are not. We try to be like some one who is more popular than we are. We ape some person who is in the limelight. We only make ourselves ridiculous trying to be something beside our true individual selves. Be yourself, be true, make the best out of yourself; don't be a copy cat. "Unto Thyself be true, and it must follow as night follows day, thou canst not unto any man be false."

Each of us was made to be just himself; yet strange to see When for that we try, We find trouble everywhere: Someone says, "How queer you are" And they wonder why.

Often differing in thought, How in truth, can we be brought To another's view? Thinking for ourselves can we Yield, and in that yielding be To ourselves untrue?

God made each of us to be Our own selves and so must we As we see the right, Act as right to us is shown In the truth, to us made known According to our light.

Be yourself, and ask to be Guided by God's help to see; Step by step the way, Not as others call or shout Their own plans to carry out Be yourself and pray.

June brides and graduates, to say nothing of roses, iris and all the marvelous masses of flowers everywhere. The world is so beautiful if only we would deserve it as we should. How we would rejoice and be glad in spite of losses and crosses and just count our mercies.

Just across corner is the dearest little baby, Jamie Fricke. The wisest look in those wide open baby eyes. O, yes, I know psychologists tell us babies don't reason or think out things. But this baby did; and his mother would tell you so, anyway, the very thought of losing such a precious little one makes the word kidnapper, a horror to hear or even contemplate. Right here we'll add babies to the list of June's jewels, flowers, graduates, brides and babies.

O, how the garden grows. How glad we are to see our Farm Bureau man gives us a table to inform us what we need to destroy the various "bug sets" that destroy vegetables and fruits. Here we find all of a sudden our strawberry plant leaves perforated as in elaborate designs for cut out, embroidery, searching the underside of the leaves, lo, there is sir worm, a small light green fellow without fur or feathers, small but mighty.

Let me tell you something, "I view with alarm" is at the door. Reading in "World's Work" magazine today we learn that as a tree planter "Uncle Sam" has much to learn. Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the Tree Planting association, points out that even little England is reforesting more acres than our Federal government, if we consider the relative acreage of forest land. Everywhere in Europe more than one tree is planted for every tree cut or burned down.

We, on the other hand, burn over and destroy five hundred times more trees than we plant. Where forests are destroyed, drought and famine follow. You may say what has that to do with Arlington Heights? Much. We are far more destructive as a people than constructive. We drain our ponds and natural water supplies instead of making them into permanent things of beauty and of use. We "landscape" our beautiful prairie spaces, and "ornament" them with foreign flowers.

We drain our bird resorts, and shoot and kill our native birds. We well remember the time when the white heron or crane used to be one of our native birds that was a bird of beauty, now they are never seen. The prairie chicken, the quail, and woodcock are gone from our land. Our venerable trees are cut down our oldest cottonwood, our largest beautiful linden tree felled to give way to wires. Trees, the glory and the beauty of our town, are destroyed. Orchards are no more planted. "We can buy fruit cheaper than we can grow it" is the answer. "We can buy vegetables cheaper than we can raise them."

Thus we prefer the hot house flowers to the wild rose and the columbine, some rare exotic to our native lily of which our Lord said, "Behold the lilies of the field, they toil not neither do they spin; yet I say unto you, Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." Yes, these very lilies are fast being destroyed.

The closed gentian, with meadow beauties the wild casia or sensitive plant and the cardinal flower are rare to find. Forty years ago we searched for the beautiful fringed gentian immortalized by our older poets. Mrs. Draper (Dr. Draper's mother) said Mr. John Wheeler (who just passed away) told her the fringed gentian grew along a certain meadow slough we later went to search for the beautiful flower, but they were there no more.

The horses are being driven out by autos; machines are taking the place of men in all lines of labor. Orchids, taking seven years to grow, take the place of our native water lilies, and American beauty roses from hothouse care take the place of our native wild rose, that should be and is the queen of all roses in fragrance and simple beauty.

You will "view with alarm" the state of mind friend Observer must be in to go into such a "tantrum." Look about you and consider if there isn't reason for alarm when

Political National Conventions Soon to Commence in Chicago

Next Tuesday, June 14, is the date of the opening of the Republican National convention in the Chicago Stadium, 1800 West Madison street. The renomination of President Hoover is considered likely on the first ballot. The principal fight foreseen is on the wet and dry issue.

The Democratic national convention, which will probably be considerably drawn out in time, will begin in the same huge building Monday, June 27. Nomination for the presidency is uncertain; Gov. Roosevelt of New York is said to have 613 delegates pledged; Speaker Garner 90; Former Gov. "Al" Smith, 69; and there are some "favorite sons" like Byrd of Virginia. Mr. Roosevelt so far lacks the necessary two-thirds. Being largely a big city party in the north, and the national leaders being mostly of that group, the party is expected to go "wet," although radically dry in the South.

We realize the destructive spirit of our time. Yet, it may be only preparation for that time. The seer of patinos foretold when he said: "I, John, saw a new heaven and a new earth." Read and consider.

There was a rose that faded young, Her petals had its beauty sung; Cut off and severed from its stem; The cold world said there's more of them.

Once grew a tree, majestic high, Lifting its head into the sky "That tree must be cut down," they said, "We'll plant another in its stead."

A flute-like song in early spring, A rare bright songster came to sing, Soon was the bird shot down to die, They said, "A million others fly."

A dwelling generations old Valued beyond its price in gold, Stood in the way where autos race, More modern buildings take its place.

The old church was all out of style, We needed room for things worth while; Plays, and our money-making schemes; For these we must build by all means.

Our old roads, little roads that wind, Must be made broader, we now find; Some houses must be moved, no doubt, But then "The owners can sell out."

The trees that lined up yonder hill, Just let that pass, the pave would kill; "They were old trees, and soon or late Would all die out at any rate."

So many new are growing old, Surprising is the number told; It seems sad their claims to fame, "Yet numbers younger need their place."

Since growth, and progress swiftly part, From old time sentiments of heart; It is the ruthless hand of change, Impels these movements new and strange.

Beauty, ideals and revered age, In this great rush pass off the stage; Glory for gain, time reckless spent Are building Polly's monument. Elinore Crisler Haynes.

Banks Will Lend More When People Buy More

Banks today are meeting the legitimate credit needs of business. They are ready and willing to open wider the gates of credit as soon as conditions justify it.

As people increase their buying, manufacturers will purchase more raw materials; merchants will lay in new stocks of goods. They will ask the banks to extend credit until the goods are made and sold, when they will be able to repay their loans.

However, until people buy more freely, banks cannot extend more credit, because there will be no sound basis for additional credit. The first responsibility of every sound, well-managed bank is to safeguard the interests of its depositors.

As recovery broadens, banks will be found ready to do their part in meeting the needs of business.

"Yes, I had made up my mind that there is no safer place for my savings than in a strong bank . . . but I decided just one day too late. I don't know what possessed me to take chances this long with robberies so frequent."

Many people have expressed such regrets the past few months.

North School Entertains at Annual Exhibit

A successful annual exhibit was held Friday evening, June 3, by the North school, Arlington Heights, preceded by a concert by the uniformed school band in a setting of elm trees and shrubs at the southeast corner of the school park. Daniel F. Mason musical coach of the band, directed. Hearty approval was indicated by the large audience.

Health achievement awards were next given, as the crowd gathered around. Florence Harth of the sixth grade was given the first award for the girls, and Ralph Salisbury, fifth grade, for the boys. These awards were for corrections no less than perfection, it was explained by Miss Martha Jackson, community nurse. In addition to the two championships, there was a long row of other pupils who also received ribbons. Points upon which pupils were graded were Teeth, Ears, Eyes, Weight, Skin, Nose and Throat, Milk Drinking (three glasses a day), Soap (one wash a week), Bathing (one bath a week), and Vaccination. These records were kept throughout the school year.

With an introductory song by Miss Hayford's eighth grade pupils, led by Miss Fern Lorenzen, the grade in costume, presented an elaborate pageant, "Hawatha," words from Longfellow's poem, directed by Miss Henning, departmental teacher of reading. The children did well, but were rather difficult to hear under the conditions.

The two school buildings were then thrown open, where constructive work, sewing, manual training, art, and other specimens of work were shown, similarly to other years.

The South school exhibit is being held Thursday this week.

Presbyterian Aid Give Luncheon, Play

Not a public affair, yet this little play, deserves a bit of publicity. There was a luncheon given by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, three hostesses at each of ten or twelve tables; this was a pleasant success.

Following the luncheon was a play, "The Wrong Baby," directed by Lillian Draper Klehm, our popular coach for even those no longer amateurs.

Some one said, "O, don't put us in the paper," yet this was so delightfully funny, too bad not to speak of it.

The opening scene, a day nursery with four cots for babies, Mrs. Brixton in charge (Mrs. Briggs), has to leave the four babies for an afternoon in charge of Mariette Brixton (Florence Elfeld).

The mothers of babies left in the nursery were, Mrs. Mulligan (Mrs. Tom), baby with red hair; Mrs. Waterboy with the curly hair (Mrs. Peterson), Mrs. Schaffner, yellow haired baby (Mrs. C. Lips), Mrs. Tripoli, black haired baby (Mrs. Mayer).

Maggie O'Reilly (Mrs. Blum) comes after Mrs. Mulligan, and Mrs. Schaffner babies, carelessly takes two; slings them under her arm and goes off eating an apple.

The baby mixer is where the fun comes in. The negro-mother, Mrs. Wafer, comes after her Unedda-Ginger Wafer, and shades of Jupiter, she gets the "red-headed" baby. And so with all the way—and each so naturally acted her part one dares not to say who was most real or funniest. At the closing scene there is sobbing and tears.

Cries from each mother, until all—happily straightened out and each mother leaves with her very own baby.

Then following the play came "The Seven Ages"—of "Man from the cradles to old age, Mrs. B. A. Noyes, narrator. The characters taken: Infancy, Janice Hackbarth; school boy, Orsen Rau; lovers and messmates, Marshall and Willard Pate, soldier, Mrs. Verna Wayman; justice, Mrs. Milton Daniels; grand mother, Mrs. Roth Sr.; the gentle grandmother giving Bible instruction to a child (John Roth); old age, Frances Elfeld. This old familiar picture was impressively given by Mrs. Noyes, with its pathos and vital interest at all stages.

The grand finale "Old Age" was so happily presented by Mrs. Elfeld as to place upon this dreary stage of existence not one sad thought. Indeed, everyone who mentions the picture of old age laughs heartily, "her whiskers were so funny."

Certainly the Ladies' Aid and those who came from outside, as well as the onlookers spent a pleasant afternoon. There was delightful music by the Ladies quartet: Mesdames Elfeld, Roth, Salisbury and Ashton; Mrs. McWharther pianist.

Violin solos were by Leonard Bolte, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. McWharther.

Behind the scenes, Mrs. Hofstetter as mistress of robes, gave needed touches to the actors in the play and it did well, too!

Miss Mary Stone
And S. J. Csanadi
In Pretty Wedding

An extraordinarily pretty and delightful wedding was that of Miss Mary E. Stone, formerly teacher of rural schools near Palatine and daughter of Mr. Michael E. Stone of Chicago, to Mr. Stephen J. Csanadi, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Csanadi, Sr., and one of Arlington Heights' enterprising young business men, last Saturday morning, June 4, at 10:15 o'clock at St. James Catholic church on Arlington Heights road.

The church was beautifully decorated by Arthur J. Lauterburg of Lauterburg & Oehler, with palms, ferns, and white peonies. The Frank Cizek was at the organ. The church was crowded with guests, many coming from the districts where the bride had taught.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a lace and satin dress, a long veil with lace cap, and carried a bouquet of brides' roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Kutska of Chicago, a cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Misses Katherine Ivan and Jennie Piotroski of Chicago, the latter a college chum of the bride.

The lady attendants were pink or randie with blue sashes, blue sandals, pink hats with blue ribbons, and carried bouquets of pink roses and blue larkspur. Mrs. Stephen Csanadi, Sr., mother of the groom, wore a dark blue dress, with corsage of sweet peas and roses.

The two little flower girls, Anna-belle and Elizabeth Fischer of Arlington Heights, carried bouquets of roses and spring flowers. The ring bearer, Stevie Kutska, cousin of the bride, was dressed in a dark blue coat and white trousers.

The groom and attendants were dressed in formal morning wear; best man, Martin Benic of Arlington Heights, groomsmen, Edward Stone, brother of the bride, and Joseph Mathias, both of Chicago.

Three priests officiated at the wedding: Father Miller of Norwood Park, a missionary priest and an old friend of the groom read the marriage ceremony; Father Wagner, local pastor, conducted the nuptial mass, and Father Linden of Des Plaines.

A quartet, a group of special friends, sang: Mrs. Wm. A. Miles of Stonegate, soprano; Margaret Rubner of Arlington Heights, alto; John Deutschman of Arlington Heights, tenor; Edward Dufresne, noted soloist at Holy Name Cathedral, baritone.

At noon a buffet luncheon was held at the Csanadi residence on West Campbell street in Arlington Heights. Many gifts, charmingly beautiful and useful, including silver, glass and furniture, were received. The bride was almost overwhelmed with the way she was remembered by former pupils and friends where she had taught.

Attending the wedding also were a number of the bride's sorority sisters of Lambda Tau Delta. Other friends of the Chicago Normal College were out, also.

The reception was held in the Dr. Harz Community house on North California avenue in Chicago. About 100 guests were present. Dinner was served at 8 o'clock; tables decorated with spring flowers arranged by Flynn-Gable florists of Arlington Heights.

Everything about the wedding and festivities of the day went off with remarkable smoothness and perfection; friends assisting so nicely with the arrangements. Wedding pictures were taken in Chicago in the afternoon.

The young couple are now at home in the Vail-Davis apartments in Arlington Heights.

Crane Family Meet With Accident on Trip to Missouri

Details of the automobile collision in which Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crane, 626 N. Belmont avenue, Arlington Heights, were both made unconscious and painfully injured, and Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Crane slightly hurt, are now available after their return home.

The Cranes were on their vacation Sunday, May 22, motoring in Missouri in Mr. Lincoln Crane's Pontiac, east on Highway No. 4, at Kahoka, and past the fair grounds there. Driving was a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Crane, Wilbur R. Goodrich, of Wyaconda, Missouri. Also in the front seat were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crane. In the rear seat were Mr. Lincoln Crane, and their daughter, Mrs. Goodrich, whom the Cranes had gone to visit.

As they approached the entrance to the fair grounds on their right, a Ford car darted out quickly from it and turned left past the path of the Crane's car, but in such a way as to cut in front of a Dodge car rapidly approaching from the opposite direction from which the Crane's car was coming. To avoid hitting the Ford, the driver of the Dodge made a quick turn left, head on into the Crane car, which had slowed down when cut off by the Ford.

It happened so quickly that Mr. and Mrs. Crane in the front seat, scarcely knew anything about the accident until they regained consciousness afterwards. Mrs. Crane had cuts on both knees, one requiring stitches, a severe bruise on the bridge of the nose, and a severe cut in the arm. Mr. Crane was generally bruised and cut, and suffered severely from shock, lapsing into unconsciousness again in the doctor's office. Mrs. Goodrich received but few injuries. Her husband received a long gash in his right arm, requiring eight stitches.

The Arlington Heights car is still out there, it being a question whether or not it can be repaired. The Cranes returned May 28, having spent the bulk of their vacation recovering from their injuries. Mr. Elmer Crane has returned to his work in Chicago. Mrs. Crane suffered severely from the antitoxic serum administered.

P. O.'s Lose Opener To Married Men

The P. O. Baseball team lost the first game of the season by a score of 18-7.

The married men were playing up to form of their pre-war baseball careers and the P. O.'s just played up to their name, but Friday at 6:30 p. m., at the east side ball park there will be another game between the same two teams, and it will be a different game altogether, the P. O.'s will come out girl clad. Don't miss this, it will be worth your 3c to 12c to see this game.

The two teams had a good turnout last week and sure did appreciate it, thanks fans.

Notes of the game last Friday: Hits for the married men about 16; single men 6; errors, married men, 6; single men, 16.

Jake Krause sure swings a wicked cleaver, Eddie Thompson swings a cue the same way, and "Hello B-m," Elmer Klehm does the same with a tree.

Wanted a system to stop these slugging married men.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 5.

The Golden Text was, "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou has created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (Revelation 4:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first fruits of his creatures" (James 1:17, 18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is not the creator of an evil mind. Indeed, evil is not Mind. We must learn that evil is the awful deception and unreality of existence. Evil is not supreme; good is not helpless; nor are the so-called laws of matter primary, and the law of spirit secondary" (p. 207).

Prohibition Backed
By Science Churches; Elect Brewster Pres.

Former Governor Ralph O. Brewster of Maine, was elected Monday as president of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. (The Mother Church) of which all other churches and societies in the denomination are branches. This was at the annual meeting. In his speech, the retiring president, Robert E. Buffum of Boston, said:

"It is imperative that we as Christian Scientists, firmly stand on the side of law and order, and that we unreservedly support righteous government."

A statement regarding prohibition was broadcast Monday morning over WBBM, by Christian Science churches of Illinois through their publication committee. In part it was said that:

"In 1920, approximately seventy-two millions of the American people, and at least sixty-eight per cent of the entire population, were living then in 'dry' territory. Consequently, prohibition was not in 1920 an untried experiment; it already had in this country an extensive history. The majority of people... have the moral and legal right to protect themselves and the people as a whole from a traffic that produces flagrant evils and is utterly devoid of good. Mrs. Eddy has declared the attitude of Christian Science toward intoxicating drink in this saying: 'Strong drink is unquestionably an evil, and evil cannot be used temperately.' (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 289)"

This statement was repeated from an editorial by Clifford P. Smith in the Christian Science Sentinel of May 14.

BATTLES TO BE REENACTED AT SOLDIER FIELD

Washington Bicentennial
Military Tournament
June 24 to July 4

What is regarded as the most spectacular military demonstration ever held in the middle west, with virtually every arm of the government's combat forces participating, will be held at Soldier Field, Chicago, June 24 to July 4, inclusive.

The occasion will be the George Washington Bicentennial Military Tournament, under the direction of Major General Frank Parker, commander of the Sixth Corps area.

The proceeds from the tournament, after expenses, will be divided equally between the Army Relief Society and the Joint Emergency Relief Fund.

High officers of the army, navy and other branches of the service, Governor Emerson, Mayor Cernak and other public officials will take part in the program.

For the period of the tournament Soldier Field will be a military encampment with infantry, artillery, cavalry, aviation, tank corps and other regular service units present.

Every evening will witness picture demonstrations by the combat forces and colorful pageants. There will be reproductions of various famous engagements of past wars as well as other events of historical and patriotic significance.

Among the events are Washington a Valley Forge; the capture of Cantigny by the American troops in the World War; the Fort Dearborn Massacre; Mount Vernon and Yorktown; the John Paul Jones victory on the Bon Homme Richard; Washington and Lafayette; Von Steuben, Pulaski and General Sullivan; airplane battles and bombings by squadrons of planes; cavalry charges and fancy riding exhibitions; infantry charges; artillery in action; tanks lumber into action; a grand review of the combat forces; dances and music by groups representing various foreign nations and a colorful fireworks display of magnitude rarely seen.

More than 100 service airplanes will take part in the tournament. They will demonstrate the latest developments in aerial warfare and in addition, a group of daredevil pilots will stage a series of thrilling stunt formations.

The American Legion, Gold Star Mothers, and a large number of foreign language groups, fraternal organizations, women's organizations, and others will participate in the tournament.

In addition there will be a dramatized exhibit portraying the life and habits of the colonial period in contrast with today. These exhibits will cover all essential phases of colonial and modern life, covering among other things, food, clothing, light, heat, power, communication and agriculture.

"This patriotic production will redound to the credit of Chicago," General Parker stated, "because it will be the greatest single celebration of the bicentennial of the birth of George Washington to be held in this country. It should win national recognition by virtue of its dimensions and inherent interest."

"At this time there appear to be many forces at work spreading propaganda subversive to faith in our form of government. I am confident that a big spectacle to focus attention on our history and the patriotism and sacrifices that made our national development possible will be particularly appropriate in times like these when our country needs to study anew the qualities of determination, unselfishness and leadership that marked the career of Washington."

John True Wheeler Enters Life Beyond

John True Wheeler was born November 15, 1844, and died Sunday, May 29, 1932, in the family home "The Pines" at Elk Grove. He was the son of Emily Cough and Ephraim Bartlett Wheeler, one of a family of eleven children—the longest to live this earth life.

He always lived in the home of his older brother Elbert, and has been with the family ever since his brother's death.

The father, Mr. Elbert Wheeler had long been an invalid, and Mrs. Wheeler and "Uncle" John shared in the care of the children, the farm home and all the stress of loss and accident.

Ten years ago while driving a horse with a buggy, Mr. Wheeler and Mrs. Wheeler were in an accident which overturned the buggy and severely injured both of them.

Mr. Wheeler received injuries from which he never regained his strength and ability to come to town or make other trips away.

During his long illness Mrs. Wheeler had been a devoted nurse, and he regarded her as a sister, always.

Mr. John Wheeler was a man of fine qualities of heart and mind; gentle, courteous and kind; one of nature's true gentlemen. His love for flowers, birds and trees lifted him above the common-place. His faith and never wavering belief in God and eternal life never wavered.

A poem written in dedication to his mother, after her death, expresses his love and appreciation of all she had done to set his feet in the right path, to strengthen him in faith and to show him the true Christ Spirit was the highest ideal in life. For her teaching he gave the credit of his belief and faith—which upheld him all through life.

Mrs. Elbert Wheeler was as "Uncle John" said, a true sister to him, and no one could have taken kinder care of him. To her he was an older brother, on whose advice she had learned to rely. She will deeply miss him.

The funeral was held in the family home Wednesday, June 1st. The burial was by the side of his mother's grave on the Wheeler family lot.

The Rev. Samuel Taylor of the M. E. Church had the sermon and service. The singing was by Mr. Wheeler's nephew, Mrs. Elbert Wheeler, accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Best. The masses of beautiful flowers surrounding the casket, were all from the home grounds where the departed had so long delighted to see them grow.

Surviving him are his brother's children, and his cousin, Mrs. Olive C. Allison. There may be other relatives we do not know. There are many old friends and neighbors who knew and respected him, who passed from earth all unafraid in the faith, his mother helped implant within his heart.

Sunday, June 12—Open house at Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta.

Monday, June 13, 8:00 P. M.—Troop 2 Committee meeting, Community Church.

Tuesday, June 14—Scouts observe Flag Day.

Wednesday, June 15, 7:30 p. m.—Cub Pack Committee meeting No. 102, Barrington Legion Rooms.

A large group of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Palatine Scouts and their parents are expected to join similar delegations from other districts of the Northwest Suburban Council next Sunday to visit Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta the summer camp for local Boy Scouts. Although the camp does not open until June 27th, Director Howard A. Gately promises that those who take advantage of this "open house" occasion will have opportunity to see all the camp's excellent facilities for providing local scouts with a real camp experience.

Local scout leaders and members of the Camping Committee will be at the camp to assist the members of the camp staff in directing the visitors about the camp site. Invitations issued by the Camping Committee urge those desiring to see the camp to drive to the camp following the morning church services, and to bring their picnic lunches along and spend the day.

Location of Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta. Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta is located on Dyer Lake about eight miles east of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Although its 73 acres do not include the entire lake, it is the only resort of any kind that is located there. The best route to the camp, according to local officials, is north on Route 21 (Milwaukee avenue) to Wisconsin Route 50 which crosses Route 21 just north of Salem, Wis. Turn left or west on Route 50 through New Munster to Slade's Corners. Turn right or north on gravel road at the eastern limits of Slade's Corners and go one and one-half miles to the Camp.

Camp Has Three Units

Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta is really three camps in one; for in addition to the regular Scout camp with its typical scouting program, there is the Indian camp of 6, sixteen-foot Indian Teepees housing 20 campers and the Directors. Here the boys follow a program of Indian lore and make their own costumes and equipment patterned after the American Indian. There is also the Pioneer Unit consisting of five log lean-tos which house four boys each. These campers follow a program of woodcraft and pioneering with a real out-of-doors atmosphere. In addition to these there is a large dining hall with an all modern, sanitary kitchen, a sanitary wash house, a well equipped handicraft shop, and a boat house which houses the canoes, boats and waterfront equipment of the best and latest design. The waterfront itself has been carefully planned with prime consideration of safety without sacrificing any of the elements that make for real fun in the water. It is under the personal supervision of a well trained director at all times.

Many Scouts Already Registered

More than fifty Northwest Suburban Scouts have already registered for one or more weeks at camp this summer, and those in charge believe that the fine record of last summer's camp at Oh-Da-Ko-Ta will cause this year's registration to exceed last. Two money-saving concessions have been offered local scouts. Those who registered on or before June 10 will receive a special 50c per week reduction. Also all troops who go to camp at the same time with more than half of their members and one of their leaders will receive a reduction of 50c per week on their camp fees. The leaders of most of the troops are active in arranging for their scouts to take advantage of one or both of these offers.

Relief Leader Endorses Scouting

The realization that there is a greater need for character-building organizations in times like the present is evidenced in a statement issued recently by Edward L. Byerson, president of the Joint-Emergency Relief Fund. Mr. Byerson said, "The heaviest penalties of the present economic conditions are being and will be borne by our boys and girls, especially as it affects their futures."

"Under present conditions we cannot afford to withdraw our moral and financial support to agencies such as the Boy Scouts of America and other responsible agencies whose programs of character building and citizenship training are so essential."

Remarkable Discovery Saves Money on Shoes

In the field of science, wonders never cease, but when remarkable discoveries benefit every household directly and immediately in saving money in times like these, they are of especial interest to everyone.

Such a discovery has recently come to our attention thru Mr. D. L. Waggoner, 6 W. Campbell street, Arlington Heights, district distributor of a product registered and protected under as Re-Sole, which positively replaces, repairs and renews old worn out shoe soles and heels of all kinds as well as protects new soles at the price of only a shoe shine.

Mr. Waggoner says, "Re-Sole is the only original, genuine perfected product of this kind in plastic form so simple to apply that anyone can apply it with ease and perfect results."

"Consider not only the immediate benefit in the saving of many dollars monthly in shoe repair bills for the entire family, but that all old shoes with good upper parts now discarded because of worn out soles, can be reconditioned and given a new lease of life for only a few cents. Also when repaired with Re-Sole, shoes are easy on the feet, absolutely waterproof, retain the same shoe comfort because Re-Sole is flexible and strong."

Re-Sole has many other uses such as repairing rubbers, golashes, rubber boots, slippers, automobile tires, tubes, rubber hose, gloves and other articles of every day use. Protected under U. S. Patent, genuine Re-Sole cannot be procured from any dealer other than the local authorized distributor, Mr. D. L. Waggoner.

Unfortunately the business interests responsible for local ordinances is certain suburban towns prohibiting representatives to call on the homes, also deprives the residents and citizens of the right and liberty to be acquainted with commodities not supplied by the dealers, Mr. Waggoner believes.

Mr. Waggoner will be pleased to receive a card or call at his local distributing office at 6 W. Campbell street, Arlington Heights from anyone interested, or he will call personally.

An interesting proposition is also offered to agents in local and nearby territory by Mr. Waggoner.

Gents 50 Cents Ladies Free

Great-great-great GRANDFATHER had a HOME, too

LET'S MAKE a little impromptu journey. There'll be no bags to pack, no ticket to buy—for it's a journey in time, not space. Just sit back where you are in your easy chair.

First stop is way back, thousands of years ago, in a Stone Age home. It is a dark cave hung with animal skins. In the doorless doorway burns a fire and by its flickering light you can distinguish a few crude flint tools scattered about on the dirt floor. Home in these days is shelter, nothing more.

Continuing our journey, an eon or two flies by, and we stop next in the Middle Ages to visit another home. This one is built of wood and stone, it has more than one room, and in the big room is a fireplace. Coarse cloth is being woven on a large wood frame, perhaps heavy shoes are being fashioned from home-tanned hides. Home now is a factory where the necessities of living are produced.

We move on again, and this time centuries pass. Suppose we lift the brass knocker on a Colonial home in America—and walk in. Here we find comforts—of a sort. Clothes are spun from flax, chairs are still stiff but they have cane bottoms. Dishes are glazed with porcelain and there is a kettle singing on the hearth. Down the street the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker have set up shop. Living in this Colonial home probably wouldn't be bad for a while—it would be like camping out in the north woods. But we can't stop longer now.

And our next jump brings us back home again in 1932. Look around you. Practically all the refinements that you think of as indispensable to your home are new—they have been developed within the last 30 or 40 years. Your telephone, your bathroom, your electric lights, your automobile, your radio. In your electric appliances you have a crew of household servants ready to work for you at the snap of a switch. And their wages are very low.

We hear people talking nowadays about the great reductions recently made in the cost of living—and asking why gas and electricity rates haven't been reduced, too. The price of gas and electric service hasn't come down suddenly because (unlike general commodity prices) it was never up during prosperity years. The law prevented it. The drastic reductions recently made in commodity prices only bring them down to the level that electricity and gas have been on for years. Even at that, in northern Illinois, families have saved almost $2,000,000 during the last 18 months because of reductions in service rates. PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS.

Record Race Victor Thanks Firestone

Upper left, Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., referee of the race, and Edsel Ford, pacemaker on the first lap. Lower, Fred Frame, the winner, and Jerry Hauck, riding mechanic, in the car they drove to victory.

Men, automobiles and tires set amazing new records of speed and endurance in this year's 500-mile international race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Giving a splendid exhibition of cool and steady driving, Fred Frame, veteran of many races, won the event in record-breaking time. With an admiring throng milling around him after his sensational victory, one of the first things Frame did was to send the following telegram to Harvey S. Firestone, pioneer tire manufacturer:

"I want to congratulate you and thank you on the wonderful performance of Firestone tires which helped me win the Indianapolis 500-mile race today without tire trouble, setting a new record of more than 104 miles an hour for the 500 miles."

The race throughout was a remarkable Firestone triumph. Every car to finish was equipped with Firestone Tires. The first four broke the former record of 101.13 miles an hour made by Peter De Paolo in 1925. In all the history of the famous motor race there has never been a more severe test of tires and never a finer demonstration of their qualities than was furnished this year. It was the thirteenth consecutive victory for Firestone.

SCOUT NEWS

DADS TRIM SCOUTS

Our Scouts may be able to show their dads how to tie several dozen different kinds of knots, which they never heard of before; how to build a fire without matches, or the secret of preparing a meal without cooking utensils—but when it comes to playing ball—well that's different.

Last Tuesday evening the Scouts of Troop No. 23 met their Dads in baseball combat on the field next to the Community hall. It required but one inning to indicate which way the battle was going. Although the Scouts displayed skill with the bat and in fielding, the opposition was too much for them. The bats on the Dad side drove the ball into the outfield with such monotonous regularity that when the score keeper tired the count was about 20 to 6.

However the Scouts are not down hearted about the outcome. They plan to do some practicing and then issue another challenge. So, dads, beware.

After the game the Scouts and their dads gathered around a camp fire and toasted marshmallows.

The kitchen provided a hot dish and a dessert for a nominal sum to those who could afford to pay, and furnished the same free to the children of the families less fortunate. Between 30 and 40 children were served each school day. The expenses of maintaining the kitchen were $325.40. Receipts from children were $170.40 and the balance of $155.00 was paid by the P. T. A. The complete treasurer's report for the season, 1931-32 is as follows:

Cash on hand Sept. 1	$102.59
Received by dues	575
Received by card party	28.00

A veteran hitch-hiker took his last ride last Tuesday when he hitched a ride on a local tow-truck going up Milwaukee avenue against the wishes of the driver. He had been told that the truck would be turning at the Deerfield road and as the truck slowed up to make the turn, he jumped from the truck and fell, fracturing his skull. He was brought to the Wheeling hospital where he died later in the day. He was a man about 60 years of age and carried no identification. The body was removed to the county morgue.

THEATRE SHOWS FOR NEXT WEEK

Joan Crawford In "Letty Lynton" at Uptown Theatre

The plot deals with an heiress whose indiscretions crop up in the form of a jealous and tilted lover, as she is about to find her life happiness. There is a poisoning; suspicion falls on her, and to save her from prison, her mother and lover provide the only alibi they can find, though it threatens the worst of scandals. An astounding battle of wits between the district attorney, the girl and her mother is one of the big dramatic situations in the picture.

Joan Crawford as Letty gives one of the greatest performances of her brilliant career; Robert Montgomery as the debonair American who suddenly turns fighter to save the girl he loves, has a role perfectly suited to his unique personality.

On the Uptown—"The World's Fairest Idea" which serves the purpose of introducing to Chicago, the sixteen Chicago girls who won the Balaban & Katz Evening American opportunity contest. They are now full-fledged performers.

"Congress Dances" at United Artists

A spectacular wedding of music and movement has been achieved in "Congress Dances" now showing at the United Artists Theatre.

The result of that wedding is a beautiful symphony, the first real musical talkie which makes an attempt to form. The effect of this wedding is wholly emotional but is very likely to be found irresistible by most movie fans.

"Congress Dances" has an all star cast of entertainers headed by Lilian Harvey.

The picture has already broken every record worth having in 17 countries of Europe. And it is said to be breaking all records at the United Artists Theatre.

In addition to "Congress Dances" there is a howling Laurel and Hardy comedy, "County Hospital." It is said to be their best to date.

Mills Brothers, Radio Stars at Oriental Stage

The sensations of Radio, the Mills Brothers, are coming in person to the Oriental Theatre Friday.

This booking is in answer to the thousands of requests that have been sent by the air admirers of these four ducky lads who sound like a jazz orchestra. The Mills Brothers, without the use of any musical devices are capable of producing the sounds of many musical instruments. Their only musical accompaniment is a guitar.

Mills Brothers while on the air have built up a tremendous following and Balaban & Katz are making it possible for these admirers to see as well as hear them. Their program will include many of the songs that have brought them fame including among many others, "China Boy," "Dinah," "Sweet Sue" and "I Only Heard."

On the screen is a story of Washington's colorful diplomatic circle, "Man About Town" starring Warner Baxter.

It deals with the friendship of two men, the ties of which are broken when a woman comes into their lives. It leads to jealousy, hatred, romance and tragedy, but, in the end, the men become friends and both defend the woman when she becomes involved in a murder. The action is said to maintain the spirit of the national capital with a tempo that is swift and sensational.

Five Big Stars of "Scandals" at Chicago

The five big stars of George White's Scandals will be on the stage of the Chicago theatre in person Friday.

Rudy Vallee and his orchestra, Willie and Eugene Howard, Ray Bolger and Jean Abbott.

Never before has any motion picture theater presented such an outstanding array of stars! All these will appear in person in a sensational and glorious stage extravaganza—especially produced with a famous Scandal beauty chorus.

Rudy Vallee, Radio's most famous personality—singing—crooning his way into your hearts—and his orchestra with their melodious tunes.

Willie and Eugene Howard are without doubt the two funniest comedians on the stage today—funnier than words can describe.

Ray Bolger, Broadway's most hilarious personality—a dancing fool and a great entertainer.

Joan Abbott, seductive singer of torch songs—beautiful to see—glorious to hear.

All of them will be on the stage in one big show at the regular Chicago theatre prices.

On the screen Sylvia Sydney and Frederic March co-star in a romantic drama, "Merrily We Go To Hell," which is based on the story, "The Merry Men," by John G. Saxe, a best-seller by Cleo Lucas. It dramatizes the story of married life in America's modern young group of irresponsibles.

Botanical Birthplaces

Botanists have found that zinnias originated in Mexico, bachelor buttons in India, radishes in China, spinach, peas and lentils in Persia, onions in Egypt, beets in Canary islands, watermelons in Africa, corn, beans, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, potatoes and tobacco in the Americas.

Long Grove Faces Mt. Prospect Sunday

Long Grove's game with Niles Center, last Sunday, was postponed on account of rain, but it was probably a break for Sunday, June 12, they face the Mt. Prospect nine.

The latter giving the Grove plenty of competition last year, the Grove being beaten twice losing their first Co. their diamond by a score of 9-8, and losing at Mt. Prospect by one run.

Jim will pitch this game with Red Holste behind the bat. This will mean a great deal to Red, if the Grove can out-point these boys, for Red who caught for Mt. Prospect in years back, expects a little razzing, razzing, etc., to his estimation, but will be nicely overcome by the many hits that the Grove boys have stored away for this game. All the games thus far this year have been thrillers, so the boys who figure their due for a break and promising to play errorless baseball Sunday, expect to play one of the tightest games, giving the fans who attend this game plenty to talk about. Game will start at 3 o'clock.

Geese With Boots
In old pre-war days, and perhaps even yet, the geese of Vilna, Russia, were the only birds in the world who wore boots. They had their feet dipped in tar, and then were driven over loose sand. This treatment provided them with a pair of boots, or its equivalent, and enabled them to march without getting footsore to the goose market at Warsaw.

From Corinthians
The quotation, "But now we see through a glass darkly," is from the Bible, I Corinthians 13:12.

Amelia Earhart Putnam To Be Honored Guest at Big Military Tournament

Chicago.—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, the most noted woman aviator in the world, who recently flew the Atlantic alone, will be the guest of the United States army in Chicago June 24 at the opening of the George Washington Bicentennial Military Tournament, it was announced today by Major General Frank Parker, commanding the Sixth Corps Area.

The Military Tournament will run from June 24 to July 4 as the greatest single celebration of the George Washington Bicentennial to be staged anywhere in the United States.

Mrs. Putnam is now in Europe where she has been the recipient of high honors as a result of her daring feat of flying across the Atlantic. She is a native of Chicago and a graduate of the Hyde Park High school in this city.

She will be received with honors rarely accorded to a civilian by the army and civic officials who will participate in the reception planned for her. Mrs. Putnam will fly to Chicago on June 24. She will be met, miles out from the city, by more than 100 army airplanes that will be concentrated in Chicago to stage the aviation features of the Military Tournament. With this huge escort of army planes Mrs. Putnam will end her Chicago and fly over the stadium. Then she will remain in the air at an altitude of several hundred feet while the army planes stage spectacular maneuvers in her honor. She will then make a hurried flight to the Municipal Airport in Chicago where she will land and immediately transfer to another plane which will bring her back to the Lake Michigan front.

Leaving her plane at the foot of 5th Street, Chicago, she will be taken in an automobile to Soldier Field and in the presence of the thousands of people gathered to watch the opening of the Military Tournament will be given her official welcome to Chicago.

Mrs. Putnam will be the guest of General Parker during her stay in Chicago. She expects to return from Europe in the near future and to arrive in New York a few days before the date set for her flight to Chicago.

Mrs. Putnam became interested in aviation shortly after the world war in which she served as a nurse with the Canadian Red Cross. Since then she has established a record speed of 181.15 miles per hour for women aviators, crossed the Atlantic by plane twice, made the first solo flight for women across the United States and performed other aviation feats that have made her the leading woman flyer of the world.

Her first trip across the Atlantic by plane was made four years ago when, with a pilot and mechanic, she flew from Newfoundland to Wales in twenty hours and forty-nine minutes.

Her daring solo flight recently also began at Newfoundland. She left Newfoundland on May 20 and fought a storm part of the way across. She was forced down in Ireland because of a leaky gas pipe, having made a record crossing time of fourteen hours and fifty-four minutes. She covered in this flight 2062 miles.

Mrs. Putnam's husband is George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher.

Fight on Tuberculosis

The bureau of animal industry says that eradication of tuberculosis in cattle was started in Pennsylvania in 1892 and 1893. The general campaign was not started until 1917, in which campaign 15 or 20 states participated.

Beneficent Ducks

Ducks, ordinarily thought of as game birds, are great weed consumers. The stomach of a duck killed in Louisiana not long ago contained more than 72,000 weed seeds.

It Is Father's Turn

Father again comes in for his annual recognition, this year on Sunday, June 19.

The setting apart of any particular day in commemoration of fatherhood is only a few years old, so young, in fact, that the average father does not yet realize his importance in the procreation of the human race.

We think that most men view any credit that women may give them along these lines with a certain amount of skepticism and possibly the men have the sneaking feeling that if he were not a necessary adjunct well the women would do the whole thing alone.

But yet Father's day is commendable and no doubt they will all receive gifts from the children and their wives, possibly he will receive a new washing machine, new curtains for the front room and various other things that he has needed for a long time but did not feel that he could afford.

ADVERTISING PAYS

Gilbert T. Hodges, President of the Advertising Federation of America, has completed a study of the seventeen year records of 120 corporations. Sixty of these corporations advertised spasmodically, heavily when times were good, meagerly when times were bad, and the other 60 annually increased their advertising expenditures at an average rate of 16% over the previous year whether times were good or bad. Mr. Hodges reports that although 17 years ago many of the 60 companies in this last group were small, today every one of them is numbered among the foremost business houses of America. They have multiplied their net assets to four times what they were seventeen years ago. Last year their combined net profits were three times greater than in the comparatively good year of 1915. Turning to the other side of the picture to see what happened to the other 60 companies, the ones that pursued an erratic and uncertain advertising policy, Mr. Hodges said: "Seventeen years ago every one of the 60 firms in this erratic group was an important national business. Today more than half of them have lost that position of importance and may have perished." It pays to advertise.

BEAUTIFUL 6-LEGGED</

HAUFF MADE HEAD POLICE DEPARTMENT

provided poles should be steel, and not over six inches in diameter.
A resolution asked by the State highway department, for the increase of the radius of the connection of Foundry road and the Northwest highway, to permit turning of all types and sizes of cars from one highway to the other, was passed.

Mr. Barrett's Water committee report was read by Mr. Framberg, showing $521.37 in delinquent consumers' water bills still unpaid.
The Police department report from Mr. Flentie was of $33 in fines collected to May 13; other fines to May 30 amounting to $92 would be turned in. Mr. Flentie also recommended that a letter of thanks be sent to the Mt. Prospect police department for the use of their motorcycle two or three days.

The building committee had no report. Mr. Flentie mentioned that some people having liens on the village hall, desired to meet with the board to see if something can be worked out. It was arranged to have the board meet with them Wednesday night, to apprise them, with the help of the village attorney, of what the situation is. With the death of the contractor and the matter in court with surety companies involved, all attempts to hurry action have failed. Mr. Flentie said that unless some agreement could be arrived at that would be interesting to the surety company, he did not see what could be done to hurry matters.

Speeders a Menace
Speeding on Arlington Heights streets was complained of vigorously by Mr. Schaefer, citing a case of an Arlington Heights resident going down S. Mitchell at "70 miles an hour." "Somebody seriously may happen if the citizens are not more considerate of traffic rules," he said.

Bills, Payroll
Current bills and payroll amounting to $2,125.11 were presented by the Finance committee, Mr. Krause, chairman. Duplicate lists were checked off as the clerk read off the original bills. Mr. Krause moved that all bills under $15, also salaries, be paid in cash, the remainder by "time warrants." The motion was carried.

Regarding money of the Village in the closed Arlington Heights State Bank, Attorney Thal reported that about ten days previous he had written all creditors, but had received no reply from any.

Mr. Framberg was asked what had been done in regard to the acid making trouble in the sewage treatment works and reported to come from the Creamery Package company's plant. He had no report to make as yet. The village has had to buy lime to neutralize the acid.

Treatment Plant Inquiry
Mr. Hauff said he thought it would be a good idea if the members of the board knew what was going on at the Municipal sewage treatment plant, and the reasons therefor, and why this or that expense is necessary. He asked that the board demand a detailed report from the engineer just what he is doing down there forty days this second year of operation at $20 a day, and just what he had to do there for such time as he put in. Then came the appointment of Mr. Hauff as chairman of the Police committee.

Annual Appropriation Ordinance
Attorney Thal then presented the proposed appropriation ordinance as gone over twice by the Finance committee after having been drafted by himself. This ordinance is not a tax levy, he explained, but includes items like the maintenance of the water system, that are financed by other than general taxes. Discussion, additions and subtractions were made, and the ordinance total $67,385. It is printed in full in the adjoining column.

Figures had to be made high enough to cover all outgo, Mr. Thal said, for expenditures would have to be kept within the limits of the ordinance. Incidentally, vehicle tax brought in some $4,000 last year, it was mentioned.

The item of "New Improvements," suggested by Attorney Thal, is intended to cover sewer and water main extensions.

Adoption of the ordinance was moved by Mr. Framberg, seconded by Mr. Schaefer, and carried.

The May report of the village treasurer was a cash balance of $450.82; there being a deficit of $1,098.26 in the general fund. The water fund had a balance of $897.94; vehicle $698.52; Road and Bridge, $2,611.72.

Mr. Schaefer asked why people were allowed to dig holes in the street in front of their property without a permit from the village. It was agreed that this practice should be checked. Mr. Flentie reported that he had sent the building commissioner to the Creamery Package company to see about a proposed addition to their plant.

Weed Nuisance
Mr. John Wydra of 921 South Dunton street complained of tall thistles filling the parkways, blocking the sidewalks and filling much of the city lots out his way. The Mayor replied that the village would have to see about mowing the parkways, but that the thistle problem in particular was the business of the township.

Unsatisfactory Sewer Job
Mr. Flentie also asked the opinion of the board as to what should be done with various places about the big sewer where cave-ins are occurring, and other unsatisfactory conditions of grading left by the contractors. Other members of the board agreed that further urging of the contractors to make these conditions good, is time wasted, and it was now time to take up the matter with the surety companies. Attorney Thal was instructed to do this.

Adjournment of the Village Board until Wednesday night followed; and the members reconvened as the Board of Local Improvements. This meeting is treated in a separate article.

Lions National Convention Los Angeles in July

Members of the International Association of Lions Clubs in six countries of the world are making preparations to attend their 16th Annual Convention in Los Angeles, California, July 19-22.

Plans, already complete, assure a highly interesting convention session and four days of unusual entertainment. Railroad rates are the lowest in years, and it is predicted that the largest crowd ever to attend an International Convention will be present.

Melvin Jones, who conceived the idea of forming this organization, has been Secretary-General of the Association ever since its inception. He is in charge of International headquarters in Chicago, and his annual report at the convention is expected to be one of the high spots on a program replete with outstanding and interesting events.

The record of achievement made by the Association includes more than 16,000 activities sponsored by the various clubs. One of its Major Activities is work for the blind, carried forward with zeal and thoroughness in everything needful for their comfort, welfare and instruction.

Many delegates plan to remain for the international Olympic games following the convention. The association has approximately 80,000 members in 2,600 clubs.

A. M. Krahl of Pure Milk Association is Regaining Health

A. M. Krahl, former M. E. pastor of Palatine and Antioch, and publicity director of the Pure Milk association, was operated for serious infection at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, Ill., May 26. Dr. Pfaff of this city, the attending surgeon, reports him able to leave the hospital within a week and making excellent progress to complete recovery. Mr. Krahl is widely known thru Illinois and neighboring states for his excellent work for the organized dairy farmers of the Chicago area.

Investment Advice for Graduates

This month thousands of young men and women in Illinois are leaving the halls of learning. Many will enter the business world. If they are wise in the ways of thrift, they will live on less than they will earn, leaving a surplus for investment.

When we say "investment" we are not thinking of securities. For the first and finest investment for every young man and woman is a savings account in a good bank. It is almost as liquid as cash. It is safer than cash carried on one's person or hidden somewhere. It earns a steady return.

Noted economists have said that no one should consider buying a security until he has a savings reserve of $1,000 and adequate life insurance.

So the second investment we recommend is life insurance. Young people can never purchase it so cheaply as at their present age.

In this difficult period thousands of families have found these two investments of incalculable value. They never shrink; they grow. Beyond this we hesitate to go. Start the foundations of your fortunes, young people, with these two tested and approved forms of investment. Later, should you decide to put some of your dollars to work in further fields, get your banker's counsel before you act. And the sooner you start to build that savings account, the sooner you'll arrive.

Dairymen Take Cut; Get $1.85 per Cwt., Effective in June

After a careful investigation during the past three weeks, Dr. Clyde L. King, arbitrator on the Chicago milk market, announced May 31 that the price of milk to the farmers would have to be reduced to $1.85, a drop of 16 cents per cwt.

The statement made by Dr. King follows: "Because of market conditions the price of milk to the farmers will be $1.85 per cwt. This drop the dealers pass on to consumers by lowering the price on pints from 8 to 7 cents. This is as low a price as either farmers or dealers can now live under with full consideration of the disastrous price level now effective throughout the country."

With all the facts and figures concerning the market before him, Dr. King decided that $1.85 as the price of milk to the farmers was justified in the face of economic conditions which, after all, determine the price of milk.

Because the Pure Milk association was spared the cut in price suggested by the dealers the latter part of April, the membership saved during the month of May a total of $225,000. This was accomplished through the concerted efforts of the Directors who negotiated with the dealers at all times with the interests of the members paramount.

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLIES UNDER THE TREAD
This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed roads.

NON-SKID TREAD
Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.
